MEDIA ADVISORY

October 23, 2008 – Austin, Texas – College and university preliminary enrollment numbers for fall 2008 showed an overall increase of 4.4 percent from fall 2007, with 1,273,954 students enrolled in all institutions of higher education (IHEs) in the state, up slightly from 1,220,211 the year before.

This increase demonstrates the continued progress Texas has made towards meeting many of the 18 measurable targets outlined in the state's higher education plan, Closing the Gaps by 2015 (CTG 2015), which seeks to increase enrollment at IHEs by 630,000 students.

Of the number reflected in this year's increase, 1,134,691 students enrolled in 2- and 4-year public IHEs, a gain of 50,252, or 4.6 percent, from 2007. Most enrollments occurred in public community and state colleges, with 34,861, or 6 percent additional students being reported.

According to Commissioner of Higher Education, Raymund Paredes, the increased enrollment at community colleges is a reflection of the vital role community colleges are expected to play in meeting the goals of CTG 2015. "We predict that as much as 70 percent of the state's higher education new enrollment will be at community colleges by the year 2015," he said.

Texas State technical colleges gained close to 16 percent increased enrollment, reporting 13,461, or 1,851, more students this fall. Medical, dental and health-related institutions experienced the second largest overall increase of all IHEs with a more than 6 percent increase in the number of students enrolling – from 16,735 in 2007 to 17,733 enrolled in fall 2008.

Independent academic institutions experienced a 2.2 percent increase in enrollments, from 116,278 students in 2007 to 118,799 in fall 2008, which reflects 2,521 more students enrolled.

The largest percentage of on-campus increases as reported by the institutions:

- Public universities: Texas A & M International University (15.23 increase; 789 new students)
- Public two-year institutions: Tyler Junior College (21.79 increase; 1,791 new students)
- Independent universities: Concordia University (87.06 increase; 1,056 new students)
- Public health-related institutions: The Texas A & M University System Health Science Center (18.37 increase; 263 new students)

The fall 2008 enrollment data reflected here are based on a preliminary count of the 12th day of class enrollment reported by IHEs. Historically, these preliminary figures are approximately 6 percent higher than the final, certified figures that are obtained later in the year.
