* Midland College has withdrawn their application, for which the institution was the only applicant for the Coordinating Board's Workforce Education Course Manual (WECM) project. San Jacinto College will work with Midland College to be able to step in and take administrative oversight of the grant. The expected Project Director from San Jacinto College has been a member of the WECM Leadership Committee, thus no loss of institutional knowledge in continuation of the project is expected. It is likely that the San Jacinto College application will be approved, but has not reached the approval stage as of today. It is anticipated the San Jacinto College grant will be on the agenda for the July Board meeting.
