Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board and Lumina Foundation for Education

Tuning Texas

Sheraton Austin Hotel
701 E. 11th Street, Austin, Texas
February 25, 2010
1 p.m. to 3 p.m.
(Hosted Luncheon 12:05 p.m. – 1 p.m.)

CHANCELLORS AND PRESIDENTS BRIEFING

Overview: Tuning is the faculty-led process of "harmonizing" higher education programs and degrees. It involves creating a framework that establishes clear learning expectations for students in each subject area while balancing the need among programs to retain their academic autonomy and flexibility. The objective is not to standardize programs offered by different institutions but to better establish the quality and relevance of degrees in various academic disciplines. (Source: Lumina Foundation for Education)

12:05 p.m. Luncheon

1:00 p.m. Welcome and Introductions
Raymund Paredes, Texas Commissioner of Higher Education
Kevin Corcoran, Program Director, Lumina Foundation for Education

1:15 p.m. Brief Overview of the Learning Year in Texas
Kevin Lemoine, Deputy Assistant Commissioner for Academic Affairs and Research, THECB

1:20 p.m. Brief Overview of the Productivity Grant in Texas
David Gardner, Deputy Commissioner for Academic Planning and Policy, THECB

1:25 p.m. History of Tuning USA
Kevin Corcoran, Program Director, Lumina Foundation for Education
William Evenson, Consultant to the Utah State Board of Regents

- Lumina's interest in high-quality degrees
- Tuning's role in sharpening the focus on what students must know, understand, and be able to do.
- Pilot projects in Minnesota, Utah, and Indiana (what we have learned)
- Video summarizing Tuning projects
- Tuning disciplines in Texas

2:00 p.m. The Process and Benefits of Tuning
Marcus Kolb, Program Officer, Lumina Foundation for Education
Tim Birtwistle, Emeritus Professor of Law and Policy of Higher Education, Leeds Law School, United Kingdom

- Overview of the Tuning process
- Transparency in communicating with education stakeholders – prospective students, parents, faculty, employers, and policy makers
- How Tuning can make implicit expectations explicit and foster accountability
- Active learning outcomes
- Survey of business leaders and alumni

2:30 p.m. Questions and Answers
All meeting participants

3:00 p.m. Meeting Adjournment