

Transfer Credit Policy

To graduate with a bachelor's degree, 25 percent of the university minimum of 120 hours must be taken in residence at UNT. At least 24 of the hours earned in residence must consist of advanced work. A minimum 2.0 GPA is required by the university to graduate. Some academic departments may require a higher minimum GPA. Ask your academic advisor for more information.

Transcripts are evaluated by the Office of Admissions, which determines acceptable transfer credit from other institutions. Your academic dean determines the applicability of the credit to your degree program.
