

Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board announces Star Award finalists

Sept. 10, 2018, Austin, Texas – The Coordinating Board has announced the names of five finalists for the 2018 Star Awards for exceptional contributions toward meeting one or more of the goals of the Texas higher education plan, 60x30TX. The Coordinating Board received 36 nominations and 26 applications for this year’s Star Award program.

This year’s finalists are:

- Alamo Colleges: Palo Alto College – Project Access
- Houston Community College – HCC’s Weekend College: A Template for Degree Completion for Working Adults
- Teach Denton Integrated Collaborative – Teach Denton: Supporting Teacher Pathways and Teacher Effectiveness
- Texas A&M International University – Service-Learning at Home and Abroad
- The University of Texas at Tyler – Bachelor of Applied Arts and Sciences Program (BAAS)

The Star Award program recognizes exceptional contributions toward meeting one or more of the goals of 60x30TX:

- Increasing the postsecondary educational attainment level of the state’s 25- to 34-year-old population (The Educated Population Goal).
- Increasing the number of students completing a certificate, associate, bachelor’s, or master’s from an institution of higher education in Texas (Completion Goal).
- Increasing the number of programs with identified marketable skills at Texas public institutions of higher education (Marketable Skills Goal).
- Implementing programs or cost efficiencies that help to ensure that undergraduate student loan debt will not exceed 60 percent of first-year wages (Student Debt Goal).

Star Award finalists will be publicly recognized for their efforts. The winner(s) will be announced on Nov. 30 during the annual Star Awards luncheon and ceremony that will be held in conjunction with the 2018 Texas Higher Education Leadership Conference on Nov. 29-30 in Austin. The annual leadership conference brings together regents, trustees, chancellors, presidents, and other higher education leaders to discuss critical higher education issues such as the 60x30TX strategic plan. Interaction among higher education stakeholders will be a key part of the conference. The orientation/conference sessions on Nov. 29 will satisfy the training requirement for newly appointed regents and elected trustees (Texas Education Code, Section 61.084). Conference registration is available at <http://www.thecb.state.tx.us/2018LeadershipConference>.

###

THECB Mission Statement

The mission of the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board is to provide leadership and coordination for Texas higher education and to promote access, affordability, quality, success, and cost efficiency through 60x30TX, resulting in a globally competitive workforce that positions Texas as an international leader.